

Ambulant assisted living for people with psychosocial impairment AWOVITA GmbH

Who may be interested in assisted living?

We accompany people suffering from chronic mental illness, who, despite their mental difficulties, want to live a self-responsible life.

One of the basic requirements for admission is the willingness and ability to stick to agreements.

In consultation with the benefactor, the range of care is determined by your needs. We will fix dates of assisted time either in your apartment, own rooms or during outdoor activities. One case manager is available as your person of reference. Throughout in-patient stays the assistance will be kept up as well.

Unfortunately we cannot supervise people with

- a primarily addiction
- geriatric psychiatric disorder
- primarily mental deficiency

Our offers

Mainly we want to instruct and help you to manage your daily life.

This includes several sections:

- Self-help training in dealing with the disorder
- Support during crises
- Single and group discussion
- Encouraging self-responsible intake of medication
- Securing medical care
- Developing a useful daily routine
- Conflict management
- Furtherance of the ability to establish social contacts
- Official affairs
- Housekeeping and budgeting
- Purchases
- Laundry and domestic hygiene
- Body care
- Social activities, such as soccer or music lessons
- And more

Our aims

With our support we want to enable you to have a self-responsible life outside of mental institutions or residential homes.

An individualized accompany in your private environment will stabilise and strengthen you and develop future prospects.

With your help the content and aims of your daily accompany will be worked out. According to your needs, developmental possibilities and limits you will be reviewed frequently and, if necessary, updated.

Staff

We provide an interdisciplinary team that collaborates with legal carers, day-care facilities, ambulant socio-therapists, the county hospital, doctors and relatives.

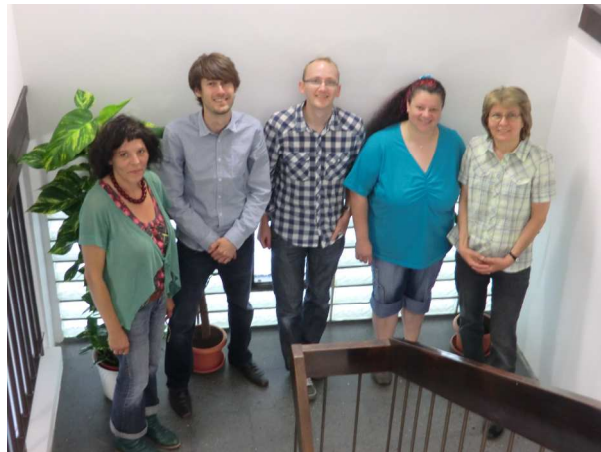

To attend further training regularly and professional case supervision goes without saying.
